F. AUGUSTUS HEINZE, COPPER KING, EXPIRES AFTER CASTING BALLOT

Was Prominent in Bourbon Councils in the State of Montana

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 5.—F. Augustus Heinze, the copper king, is dead. He came here on Tuesday to vote, despite the orders of his physicians that he was not physically in condition to travel. Shortly after casting his ballot he collapsed, death coming last night.

Fritz Augustus Heinze was born in Brooklyn, New York, in 1859, and received a thorough technical education. At the age of 18 he went to Montana and entered the employ of the Boston and Montana Company as a surveyor. Some time after he came West to work as a surveyor he discovered a process for taking copper from low-grade ore which promised to greatly reduce the cost of finished product. He went east, and after almost a year of hard and discouraging work, secured the money necessary to build an independent smelter in which to develop his process. His smelter proved so successful that soon he was able to buy two good mines, thus defeating the plans of the men who were attempting to drive him out of business. Since that time Heinze has been almost continually in litigation.

A short time ago he became involved in an attempt to corner the copper market and was with his associates investigated by the federal authorities, the investigation resulting in indictments for conspiracy. He was a multimillionaire and during his residence in Montana he took a prominent part in politics as a Democrat, at a time when Senator Clark, Marcus Daly and other mining magnates shaped the destinies of the state.

over the attempt by the police to arrest bolshewick soldiers.

Superintendent—"What we want is a night watchman that'll watch, alert and ready, for the slightest noise or indication of burglars—someone who can sleep with one eye and both ears open, and is not afraid to tackle anything. See?" Applicant—"I see, sir. I'll send my wife around."

STOCKYARDS IN CHICAGO AGAIN CLOSED DOWN

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 5.—For the second time within a few days the government has ordered the Union Stock Yards at this city closed on account of the foot and mouth disease among cattle. The original order was rescinded pending a further investigation, and the stock yards were closed again yesterday.

GREAT STORM LASHES THE JAPAN COAST

[By Latest Mail] TOKIO.—The effects of the hurricane which swept Japan have disappeared. Telephone and telegraph lines have been restored, and damage to railway and dock property is no longer in evidence. Tokio was practically isolated for many hours while the storm raged. The violence of the storm and the rainfall made new records at local weather stations.

Fort Shafter Notes

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] FORT SHAFTER, Nov. 5.—Quarter-master Sergeant William H. Edmiston of Company A has, on the recommendation of the commanding officer headquarters company, been appointed battalion sergeant major in the 2d Infantry and assigned to the 1st battalion, vice Linney, discharged. The appointment of Sergeant Major Edmiston dates from Nov. 2.

First Lieut. L. O. Mathews, 2d Infantry, has been detailed as instructor for the preliminary course, garrison school. Five hours a week will be devoted to recitations or other work. For the second year work Maj. H. O. Williams is detailed as instructor in tactics, Maj. M. J. Lennihan as instructor in military law and Maj. E. V. Smith as instructor in international law. Recitations will be held on all days except Saturdays and Sundays and at 1:30 p. m. The month of November will be devoted to professional reading or research and the officers of the class will devote at least 20 hours to that duty during the month. The book or subject selected will be submitted by title for the approval of the commanding officer. An important feature of later months will be the study of certain assigned subjects by boards of officers with report thereon at the end of the month with discussion by the class. An important subject for this board work will be the subject "The making of an infantry soldier in one year." For this the board will consist of Captains Jamerson, Cooke, Chamberlin and Johnson, with Lieutenants Bolter, Preston, Wright and Spencer. A second important subject for board work will be "A plan for a combined proficiency test and tactical inspection for a company, a battalion and for a regiment." The members of the board will be Captains Malone, McCleave and Kay, with Lieutenants Mathews, Longacker and Fredendall. An assignment of time that is of interest is that set for a visit to Fort Ruger by all officers of the command and made in order that the officers may become acquainted at first hand with the disposition and nature of the armament at that post.

The large fatigue details that are at work in the post are making great progress in clearing and when their work is completed the garrison will have three parade grounds or drill spaces. An important work is the construction of roads in the cantonment whereby all companies quartered in that part of the post will have metalled roads leading out to the main avenues, thus reducing the discomfort from mud to a minimum. The path from the cantonment to the car station is also being graded and put in good condition with steps and metalling. The detail assigned for the construction of the new ball diamond has not commenced work yet as the engineers have not been able to get at the task of laying out the diamond and setting the grade stakes. It is deemed probable that the command will be kept on the above class of work until the end of the month and thereby make a clean sweep of all such improvements and needed changes.

Captain George D. Freeman was at the post yesterday engaged in laying the command on the muster of last month. Owing to the fact that the transport Logan's sailing date was delayed until today all of the men that are leaving by that transport were required to sign the rolls and were therefore paid here instead of leaving without funds in hand for small expenses on the long trip to the states.

Lieut. and Mrs. William A. Reed have removed from their cottage out Diamond Head way to that formerly occupied by Lieut. and Mrs. Cary I. Crockett near the Pleasanton. Lieutenant Crockett will change to Schofield Barracks where his duty as aide-camp of General Edwards calls him.

A leave of absence for 20 days, to take effect about Nov. 5, has been granted 1st Lieut. Homer N. Preston, 2d Infantry.

C. R. HEMENWAY NAMED HEAD OF BAR ASSOCIATION

A special meeting of the Bar Association at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon resulted in the election of Charles R. Hemenway, former territorial attorney-general, as president of the organization to fill the position left vacant by the recent resignation of George A. Davis. Judge John T. De Bolt was chosen vice-president of the association, taking the position held until yesterday by Mr. Hemenway. Both Mr. Hemenway and Judge De Bolt were unanimously elected.

The action of the executive committee of the association in accepting the resignation of Mr. Davis as president, was approved by the members, and the resignation then formally accepted by the organization. The first action of President Hemenway will be to appoint a committee to revise the constitution and by-laws of the association. This committee will report at a meeting of the members of the organization which has been called for the last Wednesday of this month.

Present at the meeting were Charles R. Hemenway, W. O. Smith, Antonio Perry, I. M. Stainback, W. W. Thayer, E. White Sutton, D. L. Whittington, W. L. Stanley, W. A. Greenwell, A. L. Castle, B. L. Mearns, C. H. Olson, C. W. Ashford, F. J. H. Schnack, Arthur G. Smith, F. W. Milverton, W. T. Rawlins, P. L. Weaver and A. D. Larnach.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and lustrous at once—No more falling hair.

If you care for heavy hair, that gleams with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots tremble, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—advertisement.

Her idea of it.

Doctor—"In your present state of health, I advise a month in Bermuda." Lady Patient—"But, doctor, I could never never stand the smell of the onions."

BRITISH DENY REAL AMERICANS ARE HELD PRISONERS OF WAR

LONDON.—At the American embassy an emphatic denial was made of the charge that "Americans are being imprisoned in England, although carrying passports," as was asserted in a Berlin despatch sent to New York. The embassy statement was: "No American citizens whose identity as such has been clearly established have been imprisoned in England so far as the ambassador is aware, except for offenses against English law. That is to say, a good many Americans, suspected of being enemy aliens, have been detained pending an investigation into their nationality, but none has been held longer than was necessary for assurances to be received from diplomatic or consular representatives that they were entitled to claim American citizenship."

STOCK COMPANIES IN JAPAN HONOLULU DRUGGIST PLEASES CUSTOMERS

Fewer business enterprises are being undertaken but a greater amount of capital is going into the promotion of larger business undertakings. The amount of capital, however, is less than during the corresponding period of last year.
